

Giving advice

I can give someone advice.

- 1 Give advice with should or shouldn't. Use the phrases in the box or your own ideas.

listen to that loud music
go to bed
wear those old clothes
look for it again
copy your friend's homework

1 _____

2 _____

3 _____

4 _____

5 _____

- 2 Write Ryan's lines in the correct place in the dialogue.

I'm OK, but I'm worried about my brother.
No, I haven't. Should I tell them?
You're probably right. Thanks for the advice.
Because I think he's stolen a CD from a shop.
Hi, Hannah.
What should I do, then?
Do you think so?

Ryan 1 _____

Hannah Hello, Ryan. How are you?

Ryan 2 _____

Hannah Why?

Ryan 3 _____

Hannah Really? Have you told your parents about it?

Ryan 4 _____

Hannah No, you shouldn't.

Ryan 5 _____

Hannah You should talk to him about it.

Ryan 6 _____

Hannah Yes. Tell him he can get into a lot of trouble if he steals things.

Ryan 7 _____

- 3 Write a conversation like the one in exercise 2. Use the problem and advice in the box or your own ideas.

Sue's problem: She's got an exam next week. She's worried about it because she hasn't prepared for it.

Tom's advice: Sue has still got a week. She should do a little extra work every night. She shouldn't go to bed late.

Sue Hi, Tom.
